Few premises in the Irish Licensed trade possess as legendary a history as The Bridge House Hotel Tullamore. Whilst the property dates from the 1720's it is safe to assume that a grocery and liquor trade has existed on part of the current site since the early 1800's and by 1892 was one of the most comprehensive and prestigious latter day pub and grocery stores in all of Ireland. The Bridge House has a compelling historic reputation over the decades as a house of unrivalled Ól, Ceol, Bia agus Craic.
